

Title II - State Report 2009 - Arkansas

Introduction

In October 1998 Congress enacted the Higher Education Act. Title II, Sections 207 and 208 reflect the efforts of States, Institutions of Higher Education (IHE), and their school district partners to improve the recruitment, preparation, and support of new teachers. The Title II report includes requirements, conditions and specifications for institutions and states related to teacher preparation and licensure.

As reported, there were 30,532 licensed teachers teaching in Arkansas during the 2008-2009 school year. Of the 15,672 Arkansas teaching licenses issued in 2008-2009, 1,959 were for new teachers (1,816 of which were prepared in Arkansas). The number of new licenses issued in each of the following areas was: Early Childhood – 760, Middle Childhood – 297, Secondary Social Studies – 86, Secondary English/Language Arts – 84, Secondary Life/Earth Science – 17, Secondary Physical/Earth Science – 12, Secondary Mathematics – 46, and Foreign Languages – 32.

Individual IHE reports indicated there were 7,745 students in teacher preparation, with 1,699 of these in the clinical experience (pre-service teaching). The mean student/teacher ratio for the clinical experience was 3.19 students per student-teaching faculty. All Arkansas IHEs reported herein were accredited, with none on probation, and none being designated as low performing. Two alternative routes to licensure are identified in this report. One consists of the Graduate programs (M.A.T., M.S.E. or M.Ed.) offered at colleges and universities, and the other is the Non-Traditional Licensure Program under the auspices of the Arkansas Department of Education. For this reporting year there were 1,490 program completers reported by the IHEs and 388 program completers reported by the ADE Non-Traditional Licensure Program.

Other efforts aimed at improving teacher quality include the state-mandated teacher Induction and Mentoring program for all novice teachers. Each mentor works closely with an assigned novice teacher, following the Pathwise Mentoring Model, to support the teacher and prepare him or her for the standard license performance assessment. Each pair is funded in the amount of $2,000, with $1,200 issued as a stipend to the trained mentor, while the remaining $800 is used for professional development and/or professional materials for the novice teacher.

The capstone experience for teacher Induction is the in-class performance assessment conducted for each novice teacher by a Praxis III assessor who is trained and certified by the Arkansas Department of Education (ADE). The state funds the cost of the first assessment (and a second if needed). When the novice teacher successfully completes the classroom performance assessment, a standard five-year teaching license is issued. The current pass rate for this performance assessment is greater than 98%.

The ADE also offers a Non-Traditional Teacher Licensure program, which is an alternate route to an Arkansas teaching license. This two-year instructional program was designed to help public schools meet teacher shortage needs and currently serves approximately 450 candidates per year. Teacher candidates enrolled in this program are mentored for both years.

A Teacher Recruitment and Retention program was established and funded by the State. The personnel employed in this program publicize and promote the teaching profession and assist Arkansas schools with teacher vacancies. This office also utilizes high-end technology in an online interactive educator recruitment data management system.

The National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) has certified 845 Arkansas teachers to date, and approximately 500 active candidates are presently pursuing this certification. A strong state support program and a legislatively funded salary stipend for successful completers have generated great interest in this proven method of increasing teacher quality. Also, at least eighty Arkansas school districts provide additional incentives for NBPTS certification.

To provide Arkansas schools with high quality leaders, for support of teachers and to increase student learning, the ADE has also put into place an Administrator Induction and Mentoring Program that provides funding for mentors and professional growth opportunities for beginning administrators. Each beginning administrator is required to develop and implement a Professional Learning Plan, with the mentor's assistance, during the induction experience.

In an effort to assist the ADE personnel and the State Board of Education (SBE) regarding issues relating to improvement of teacher quality, the state legislature passed a law establishing the Professional Licensure Standards Board (PLSB). The PLSB is appointed by SBE to review and provide recommendations on various issues related to teacher quality. Board members are practicing classroom teachers, administrators, higher education faculty, and ex-officio ADE personnel.

These highlighted efforts, as well as several other accountability measures, have earned Arkansas great recognition among state peers in the area of teacher quality. Education Week ranked Arkansas second in the nation in 2009 in the area of The Teaching Profession.

Assessment Criteria

Section IV

1) Has the state implemented criteria for assessing teacher preparation program performance?

Yes

Implementation Date: 9/8/1986

List the entities involved in implementation.

National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. Arkansas Department of Education. Arkansas Department of Higher Education.

Specify any national organizations whose criteria are being used or that are involved in some other way.

National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

Any and all Specialized Professional Associations that are NCATE constituents or are recognized by NCATE.

Describe the criteria.

The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) is the accrediting agency used for the review and approval of all Arkansas teacher preparation units. Arkansas' partnership agreement with NCATE is described as an all-NCATE-review; i.e., NCATE standards are used for unit review and approval, and all state/NCATE standards are used for reviewing individual programs within the unit.

The NCATE review is a performance-based review. This matches Arkansas' shift in focus of teacher preparation and licensure to a performance-based credentialing system. Thus, the Arkansas/NCATE partnership collects and analyzes data and information on educational candidate performance as a part of the state approval and NCATE accreditation process.

Low Performing Programs

Section V

- 1) Please provide a description of the procedure your state uses to identify and assist (through the provision of technical assistance) low-performing programs of teacher preparation. (See HEA Title II, Section 208(a).)

Advice, resources or other assistance will be provided to low-performing programs and programs at-risk of becoming low performing by individuals who have demonstrated expertise in quality teacher preparation. These may include representatives from state departments, institutions of higher education, consulting firms and/or professional organizations. As each case may be anticipated to be unique, when necessary, technical assistance will be tailored to the specific needs of the institution.

- 2) Please provide a list of the criteria your state has defined for classifying teacher preparation programs as "low performing." (See HEA Title II, Section 208(a).)

Low-performing institution: A low performing institution is an institution that has a teacher preparation program that is designated as low-performing.

Low-performing program:

A low-performing program is a teacher preparation program which fails three of the six criteria listed below.

Criteria 1: Summary pass rate of at least 80% on the Praxis Series Assessments.

Criteria 2: A content major is required for secondary education program completers.

Criteria 3: The student - supervising faculty ratio does not exceed 18 students to 1 faculty (FTE).

Criteria 4: The number of weeks of student teaching is not less than 12 weeks.

Criteria 5: The institution conducts an annual comprehensive unit assessment of teacher preparation.

Criteria 6: The institution is NOT placed on probation by NCATE.

- 3) Please provide a list of teacher preparation programs in your state that are currently classified as low performing, or as being at risk of being so classified. (See HEA Title II, Section 208(a).)

Please give the program name and institution, date so designated, and whether the program is considered at risk or is classified as low-performing. Those programs already provided are listed below.

Efforts to Improve Teacher Quality

Section VIII

- 1) Please list and describe any steps taken by the state during the past year to improve teacher quality. Efforts might include: developing standards or criteria for teacher performance; changing requirements for initial teacher certification or licensure; revising required assessments for initial teacher certification or licensure; modifying policies for renewals, certificates or licenses; developing alternative routes to certification; changing the grounds for waivers of teacher certification or licensure.

Over the past year Arkansas has initiated various efforts aimed at improving teacher quality. Required assessments for teacher licensure have been reviewed; resulting in either revalidation or adoption of a newer, more appropriate assessment of new teacher skills.

Within the teacher Induction and Mentoring program, Front-End Mentoring was enhanced for all non-traditionally prepared novice teachers (for their first year only). These teachers and their mentors engage in approximately forty assignments, tasks and activities at the beginning of the school year, which are designed to enhance the novice teacher experience.

To enhance the capstone experience for novice teacher Induction (the in-classroom performance assessment conducted by a trained Praxis III assessor for each teacher with less than one year of experience) the ADE has enhanced the new online data management system which added further elements of accountability for the quality of mentoring and the control of funding procedures.

Additional accountability has been added to the Teacher and Administrator Induction programs by having monitors visit school districts to review procedures and documentation. This has proven to be a true asset to productivity within the Induction programs. The Administrator Induction Training also was changed this year. Mentors are receiving one full day of mentor training. A curriculum was designed just for this purpose and has added to the quality of the mentoring program.

The Arkansas Department of Education also added additional accountability to the Non-Traditional Teacher Licensure program. This two-year instructional program helps Arkansas public schools meet teacher shortage needs and currently serves approximately 450 candidates per year. An enhancement to this program was accomplished by initiating and streamlining pre-module and post-module assessments for each Instructional Module. Curriculum specialists were hired to revamp the entire curriculum for the Non-Traditional Licensure Program.

Within the past year the Teacher Recruitment goals and objectives have been re-visited and are currently being enhanced to better serve school districts with staffing needs. The personnel employed in this program assist Arkansas schools that have teacher vacancies, and promote and publicize the teaching profession throughout Arkansas. Teacher Recruitment has established a working advisory committee with membership that includes practicing teachers, school administrators, higher education faculty and representatives from Arkansas' Educational Renewal Zones.

These highlighted efforts, as well as several other accountability measures, have earned Arkansas great recognition among state peers in the area of teacher quality. Education Week ranked Arkansas second in the nation in 2009 in the area of The Teaching Profession.
